NIKOLAY STOYANOV

JUNIOR AI DEVELOPER

ABOUT ME

My name is Nikolay Stoyanov, and I am preparing for a position as a Junior AI Developer. My training includes courses at AlphaTraining in Germany, focusing on web design (HTML5, CSS3, Dreamweaver, Node.js, Next.js, React), developing interactive applications with JavaScript and AJAX, and building Single-Page Applications with React. I also have knowledge of object-oriented programming and databases in Java, as well as experience with Python programming. Currently, I am studying at Software University, where I have successfully completed "Programming with JavaScript". Since September, I have been intensively studying Vibe Coding.

WORK EXPERIENCE

- For 10 years, I have worked and participated in the automation of manufacturing processes and the creation of automated CNC machines and robots.
- Over the past 5 years, starting in early 2021, I transitioned my skills towards the new Industry 4.0.
- Successfully completed several courses at VibeCoding in Bulgaria, which pivoted my skills towards software development and the Artificial Intelligence (AI) 4.0 industry.
- Currently engaged in a specialized project for the development of AI solutions at VibeCoding, working on expanding front-end/back-end functionalities, alongside the application of modern software design principles.
